

In the news

Mandurah Mail

23 June 2011

Stunning design saves money

SUMMIT Homes has opened its first nine-star rated home, providing WA homebuyers with an opportunity to enjoy a stunning rear-living design and save up to 78 per cent off their heating and cooling costs.

Aptly named the Olympus, after the highest mountain in Greece and in a clever nod to Summit's brand name, it is a design that is perfect for families who enjoy fun-filled free-form living and unlimited entertaining options.

First impressions won't disappoint with an elevation that looks alive and accentuated with a feature stone clad panel next to the portico.

Once inside, visitors will first discover the indulgent master suite with a big walk-in robe and luxurious ensuite with double shower, twin Caroma Liano basins, solid Freestyle benchtops and a feature bath.

But it is through the long entry corridor that the grandeur of the home can truly be appreciated.

Raking ceilings dominate the rear living areas of the home creating a wonderful sense of space and light.

Sales and marketing manager Tim Underwood, said families would be spoilt for choice with a number of dedicated areas to relax and entertain in.

A clever design sees the kitchen and home theatre both balance the rear living zones to create a seamless and stable free-form living space.

See the Olympus on Sticks Boulevard, Erskine on Saturday, Sunday and Monday public holidays between 1-5pm or Monday and Wednesday between 2-5pm.

For more information on Summit Homes' display locations and other designs call 9333 0888 or go to mitnewhomes.com.au

Perth Metro: 9333 0888
South West: 9722 0300

