New face of Summit Homes

In an endeavour to bolster its digital marketing efforts, builder Summit Homes has launched a new-look website and an official Facebook page.

The website promises to be more user-friendly, allowing visitors to choose their new home from more than 50 designs and hundreds of images.

For the first time, the website also includes a dedicated section for Summit's promotional homes and expanded cottage and corner-lot range.

Meanwhile, the new Summit Homes Facebook page, which will be updated regularly with all the news from the builder, can be found by clicking on the link on Summit's website at www.summitnewhomes.com.au.
