

In the news

Weekend West NEW HOMES
13 August 2011

The Envy is one of Summit's seven-design promotion.

Summit asks buyers to commit a sin

GEMMA NISBET

Designed to tempt, priced to satisfy: that's the idea behind Summit Homes' new range of promotional designs, called the Seven Deadly Sins Series.

The seven homes are inspired by Summit's most popular displays and are priced from $170,995 in the Perth metropolitan area and from $176,995 in the South West.

Each of the homes offers four bedrooms, two bathrooms, multiple living areas and a covered alfresco area in a home has quality specifications incorporating cavity wall insulation and R4.0 ceiling batts, stainless-steel kitchen appliances, Caroma china basins and tapware, and a Colorbond roof.

They also have framed pivot shower doors and screens; plasterboard ceilings in the alfresco area; walk-in or built-in robes to all bedrooms; Brikmakers paving to the driveway, porch, path and alfresco area; and a Rheem 160-litre gas hot-water system.

Each of the homes offers four bedrooms, two bathrooms, multiple living areas and a covered alfresco area.

total living area of between 235sqm and 253sqm.

All the designs exceed the minimum six-star energy-efficiency requirement and the Indulgence, which was inspired by the Olympus display in Erskine, has the highest rating — 8.9 stars.

The others are named after the sins of lust, envy, extravagance, pride, passion and decadence, and are all based on displays in Perth and the South West.

Each promotional

The homes would suit buyers looking for quality designs, finishes and specifications without a big price tag, Summit sales and marketing manager Tim Underwood said.

"We have listened to our customers and responded with a series of designs that offer heavenly value for money," he said.

For more information, visit sevendeadlysins.net.au or call 9333 0888 (Perth) or 9722 0300 (South West).

The Indulgence has an 8.9-star energy-efficiency rating.

Perth Metro: 9333 0888
South West: 9722 0300

